Is It Time to Hire Your First Employee? Here's How to Know

If we truly simplify the question of whether it's time to hire your small business's first employee, it comes down to one major factor: cash flow. Because, in the end, no matter how overwhelmed you feel or how many hours you work, if the money's not there, hiring might not be the right move — or even possible...yet.

2025 Wellness Trends for Small Business Owners

As a small business owner, your time is exceptionally valuable. Being out of the office for any extended period, such as taking off a few days due to illness, can result in missed deadlines, lost opportunities and lower profits.

Therefore, ensuring your continued good health is essential to maintaining the prosperity of your business.

Sponsorships

Dress For Success promotes women's economic independence from challenging situations by providing professional attire, a network of support and career development tools to help them thrive in work and life.

How We Work
Dress For Success provides professional clothing and counseling for each of our clients. When a client secures a job interview, we provide her with one free business suit, as well as the appropriate accessories, footwear and makeup. When she successfully lands a job, she returns to Dress For Success for five additional pieces.

What to Donate
Dress For Success Midwest® accepts both financial and in-kind donations.

Current Needs

- Interview-appropriate suits, including blouses, slacks, skirts, dresses, blazers and jackets
- Work-appropriate shoes, including pumps or flats in sizes five up to 12
- Accessories, such as scarves, earrings, bracelets, rings, necklaces, purses, briefcases and portfolios
